Frequently Asked Questions

Why is a property transferred into the MLBFTA inventory?

Property is transferred to the MLBFTA due to the property being foreclosed upon because of non-payment of property taxes.

Under what circumstances would a reconveyance be granted?

If the property owner was not given proper notice of the foreclosure.

How long does it take to process an application for property reconveyance?

The request may take up to sixty (60) days to research.

If an application for reconveyance has been approved, the property must go back through the chain of title, which can take up to an additional ninety days (90). The process involves the following steps:

- Step One: First, all delinquent taxes, interest, penalties, and fees must be paid to the county treasurer. In the case of property located in the City of Detroit, delinquent city taxes must first be paid to the city treasurer after which the city treasurer will issue a letter that must be presented to the Wayne County Treasurer's office along with proof of ownership (i.e. deed). The Wayne County Treasurer's office will then allow for the collection of remaining delinquent taxes.
- Step Two: An application for reconveyance must be completed at the county treasurer's office which the treasurer will submit to the Michigan Department of Treasury. The application will be forwarded to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (MDNR), which will then request the property from the MLBFTA.
- Step Three: The MLBFTA prepares the reconveyance documents for the property to be transferred back to the MDNR.
- Step Four: The MDNR prepares the Quitclaim Reconveyance Deed for reconveyance of the property back to the prior owner of record.
